

Phonics Workshop

Phonics is what we teach children to enable them to initially read and write.

It involves teaching the sounds which are made by letters and groups of letters.

Name of letters

a b c d

Sounds of letters

The sounds of the letters of the alphabet will be taught first.

Once children are familiar with letters, they will be taught to hear initial and end sounds, segment and blend.

Initial sound

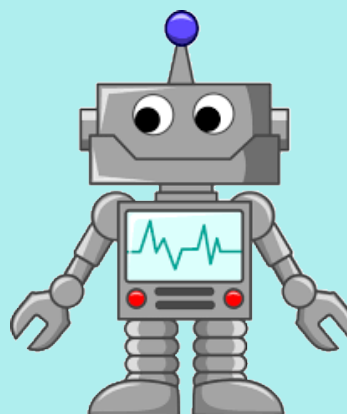

End sound

d-o-g

A diagram showing the word 'dog' in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The letters are separated by hyphens: 'd-o-g'. Two arrows originate from the text 'Initial sound' above the 'd' and point to the letter 'd'. Another two arrows originate from the text 'End sound' above the 'g' and point to the letter 'g'.

Segmenting is the pulling apart of a word to enable us to spell.

c-a-t

Blending is the pushing together of a word to enable us to read.
